My inspiration for the name of this memoir is derived from the superstitious wives tale about cats having nine lives. The notion of that myth, while the origin is unknown to me, seemed to be a fitting title line. In the course of a 26 year career as an Air Force Pilot, there were the usual sorts of in-flight emergencies and associated difficulties. Yet there were still other life or death situations wherein it seemed things were entirely out of my control; it was if I was merely along for the ride as a spectator. Those events constitute the eight very distinct occasions wherein, but for the Grace of God and Divine Intervention, I believe it is most doubtful that I would still be around to author the memoirs embodied in this autobiography.

A history of the Great Lakes as told by the biologists, fishermen, sailors, and others who have experienced them firsthand traces the author's experiences as a local resident and schooner crewperson. Reprint. 15,000 first printing.

OFF THE GRID WITHOUT A PADDLE is the true story of two greenhorns, escapees from the gritty City Of Los Angeles, who buy a home off the grid in a tropical mountain rainforest in rural Hawaii, with fantasies of utopia and dreams of self-sufficiency, but no real idea of what they're getting into. In their first year in an unfamiliar new world, the high-tech, low-tech, no-tech learning curve is steep and hilarious: exasperating, exhilarating . . . exciting! Whether or not you share the dream of moving off the grid, you'll get a laugh out of their unexpected adventures.

The Candy Store and Other Bon Bons is not your run-of-the-mill memoir. Phyllis Dolgin is bold, has strong opinions, and is quite soulful. She fought alongside civil rights activists, enjoyed a bohemian lifestyle, and traveled around Europe wearing clothes you could only dream about; all of this, and more, probably before some of you were born. Her amusing stories are tough and tender, and a reminder that life, while not for the faint of heart, is to be cherished and lived with gusto.
